6 great reasons why schools book Life Education visits:

EMPOWERING - We empower young people with the skills and self-confidence to put their decisions into practice. In the mobile classroom Educators provide opportunities for all pupils to make a positive contribution and experience success. We explore communication skills, tackling bullying, peer relationships and risky behaviours to help children develop essential life skills and feel safe.

IMPACT - Memorable, fun and exciting sessions for pupils, delivered in the mobile classroom and involving the whole school. Promotes healthy lifestyles including physical and emotional health and well-being and contributes towards safeguarding responsibilities.

TAILORED - Lessons tailored to the specific needs and themes of your school to complement and enhance your existing curriculum. Staff meeting and follow up resources to ensure our work is embedded into PSHE planning. Comprehensive Curriculum Maps show how learning outcomes link to National Curriculum learning objectives and the PSHE Association's recommended Programme of Study learning outcomes.

QUALITY - Interactive sessions created by child development experts in line with current best practice are delivered by highly skilled educators. As a Delivery Partner of the UK's leading Health and Drug Education programme 'Coram Life Education', our work has achieved the Department of Health Information Standard quality mark.

EVIDENCE - Written report for each school summarising pupil and teacher feedback demonstrating the key outcomes achieved by the visit. This can contribute towards your portfolio of evidence for the Ofsted inspection framework particularly relating to Behaviour and Safety.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT - Parent sessions and workbooks provide a great opportunity for schools to engage with and involve parents/carers. Our website has further information, games for pupils to play and facility to email Harold.
